AUTHORS' STATEMENT

All works submitted to LED Edizioni Universitarie for publication in edited collections, journals, or institution and/or universities series must be accompanied by this statement signed by all the authors.
In the case of multiple authors, co-authors may sign separate copies of the declaration and send them to the corresponding author or publisher.
No work may be published without this statement, duly completed, dated and signed in a legible manner.

Author(s) : _____

Work entitled: _____

to be published in (Book/Journal title) _____

1. The undersigned Authors of the above mentioned work

a) declare that
- (in the case of journals) adhere to the ethical standards published in the Journal website
- the work is their sole and exclusive property and does not contain anything which infringes any third party's copyright or other rights;
- the work is submitted in final form such that excluding any correction or change in proof;
- if any of the content of the work is copyrighted to a third party, copy of the written permission from such other party granting LED the right to use the material in both print and online formats is submitted along with this statement (n. _____ attachments); they shall indemnify and hold harmless the Publisher against all actions, proceedings and claims and against all costs, demands and expenses (including legal expenses) arising from unauthorized reproductions.

b) authorize LED to publish the work (if accepted)
- in print form under the "LED Edizioni Universitarie di Lettere Economia Diritto" trademark
- (at the discretion of the editors of the volume / series / journal):
  - online in the LED electronic archive at https://www.ledonline.it, in PDF format
  - after revision and correction of the drafts to be performed exclusively by the editors of the volume / series / journal.

c) agree and accept the following sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

2. Figures can be reproduced only if they are free of copyright restrictions, i.e. if they are in the public domain or accompanied by permission from the rights holder. Images downloaded from the Internet always require authorization unless expressly declared otherwise in the source. Authors must identify all materials and figures which require authorization for publication and provide the permission on submission of the work to be published (see Section 1a). No work with copyright permissions pending will be accepted. The sources of figures and tables reproduced from other publications must be cited.

3. Publication, whether in print or online, does not entail an exclusive transfer of copyright from the Authors to the Publisher. The Authors grant the Publisher the non-exclusive rights necessary for the publication, reproduction, distribution, dissemination, archiving, and use of the texts as stated in Section 6 below. The design, layout, and editorial formatting of the texts published by the Publisher, in print and/or online, shall remain the exclusive property of the Publisher.

4. Articles published in the journals are made available by the Publisher on an open access basis through the website https://www.ledonline.it/ under the Creative Commons Attribution - NonCommercial - NoDerivatives 4.0 International (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0) license (https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/). Chapters included in collective volumes are covered by a Creative Commons license only where explicitly stated. The use of final publication files for commercial purposes or in commercial contexts is prohibited without prior written authorization from the Publisher. To maintain accurate access statistics for the Journals or Series, such files shall not be uploaded to social platforms such as Academia.edu, ResearchGate, or similar networks. Instead, the publication should be referenced by citing its DOI and/or a link to the journal's homepage. Authors are permitted to self-archive their works in institutional repositories managed by MIUR, CINECA, ANVUR, or by the universities or institutions with which they are affiliated.

5. Individual Authors (or, where applicable, the Journals or commissioning Scientific Institutions under separate agreements independent of the Publisher) retain the copyright to their content. Such content may be republished by them at any time and in any form, subject to the following conditions:
- the new publication shall not reproduce the graphic design or layout of the original publication issued under the LED imprint, nor use or reproduce the PDF files published on the https://www.ledonline.it website (this restriction does not apply to the self-archiving permitted above);
- the new publication shall include a full citation of the original publication under the LED imprint, including the relevant URL where applicable;
- the new publication shall not prevent or restrict the continued publication, use, and commercial distribution of the text by the Publisher, as stated in Section 6 below.

6. The Publisher shall have full rights to publish, reproduce, distribute, disseminate, and archive the texts, even if they are subsequently republished under another imprint and/or with another publisher, in both print and digital form, in all formats, and through any current or future means and channels of dissemination. The Publisher may also use the texts, in whole or in part, individually or as part of collections, databases, or other works, including for purposes of research, documentation, automated analysis, or AI system training, either directly or in collaboration with third parties worldwide, under specific agreements or licenses. Such use shall be without prejudice to the Authors' moral and attribution rights. The Publisher shall have full rights to manage, grant, and oversee any licenses for use issued to third parties. These rights are not limited by the Creative Commons license referred to in Section 4, which governs only the open-access public use of the work by third parties.

7. The Publisher shall not be held liable for any improper or unauthorized use of the published texts by visitors to the website or by third parties.

8. No remuneration or financial compensation shall be due to the Authors.

9. Guidelines for submission of texts for publication – Authors must strictly adhere to the formatting rules and examples set out in the Information for Authors of the relevant Series or Journal, which they expressly confirm to have read and applied. Authors are in any case encouraged to maintain regular contact with the Editors of the volume or journal.

10. In the case of multiple authors, the Corresponding Author shall be responsible for all communications and correspondence with the Publisher and the Editors of the volume or issue.
