Relations

BEYOND ANTHROPOCENTRISM

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

1. ABOUT

Relations. Beyond Anthropocentrism is a peer-refereed journal of trans-anthropocentric ethics and related inquiries. The main aim of the journal is to create a professional interdisciplinary forum in Europe to discuss moral and scientific issues that concern the increasing need of going beyond narrow anthropocentric paradigms in all fields of knowledge. The journal accepts submissions on all topics which promote European research adopting a non-anthropocentric ethical perspective on both interspecific and intraspecific relationships between all life species – humans included – and between these and the abiotic environment.

We welcome papers, comments, debates, interviews, book and movie reviews, as well as presentations, reports, and other news concerning relevant activities and events. We envision inter- and trans-disciplinary contributions and dialogue from a wide variety of approaches: humanities (e.g. philosophy, literature, arts, law, and religious studies), life sciences (e.g. biology, ecology, ethology, medicine), and social sciences (e.g. economics, politics, anthropology, sociology, psychology). We especially encourage collaborative submissions from different disciplinary approaches, from both senior and junior scholars (including graduate students). All suitable submissions should address both academic and lay audiences as well as relevant stakeholders. Since the journal refers to an international readership of people from different disciplines, both inside and outside the academic community, contributors should keep in mind this heterogeneity of provenances and areas of expertise when writing.

The journal is issued every 6 months. Some issues will have a special thematic focus announced on the journal's website and through widely distributed calls for papers. Invited works will also be published.

2. SUBMISSION

Works submitted to the journal should be original and not under consideration for publication elsewhere. Submissions should show engagement with on-going intellectual debates and awareness of the current literature. Authors should identify all materials and figures that require permission for publication and provide the permissions on submission of the work to be published.

PEER REVIEW POLICY AND PROCEDURE

In submitting works to the journal, authors agree that their works may be published (if accepted).

Submission of a work does not guarantee acceptance.

All submitted works judged suitable for review undergo anonymous double-blind review.

Papers will be evaluated by at least 2 referees and, following their indications, will be either accepted, or returned to the authors for corrections, or rejected.

Reviews are not normally sent out for peer-review beyond the Review Editors.

The final decision is the responsibility of the editor, and will be given within 6 months of receipt.

3. TEXT ORGANISATION AND STYLE

Papers should be no longer than 7.000 words including quotations, references, and footnotes, but not including tables or graphics.

Abstracts of no more than 200 words summarizing the primary argument(s) and finding(s) should be included at the beginning of the paper.

10 keywords should also be supplied.

Comments, debates, interviews, book and movie reviews, presentations, and reports should not exceed 2.000 words and are normally published by invitation, although we welcome recommendations and would be glad to accept submissions.

Any other news should not exceed 1.000 words.

Works should be in English. Misprints should be eliminated. It is expected that authors submit proofread material.

Submissions should be checked by a native English speaker prior to submission. Please provide a suitable statement.

The hierarchy of headings is very important, as is uniformity and consistency of the segmentation of the text into sections, sub-sections, and paragraphs. Headings should be numbered. Up to three levels of headings may be used (e.g. 1. 1.1. 1.1.1. 1.1.2. 1.2. - 2. 2.1. 2.1.1. 2.1.2. 2.2.). Further levels and blank lines which are not correlated to titles must not be used.

There should be uniformity and consistency in the use of bold, italic, underlining, and quotation marks. Avoid combined use of bold and italic unless it is absolutely necessary. If possible, avoid the use of bold type and use italic instead. Avoid underlining. Please use quotation marks ("...") for quoted material up to 40 words.

Quoted material of more than 40 words should be displayed as an indented block quote, with a blank line above and below, without quotation marks.

There should be uniformity and consistency in the use of capitalization for acronyms, institutions, etc. as well. Avoid capitalization and small capitals for the names of authors. Capital and small letters are to be used.

Punctuation should be consistent, including where it is used in figures and numbering (thousands, decimals, etc.).

FIGURES, TABLES, AND FORMULAS

Photographs, drawings, graphs and graphics are all identified as Figures.

Figures can be reproduced only if they are free of copyright restrictions (see Authors' Statement, Paragraph 2). The sources of figures and tables reproduced from other publications should be cited.

Figures and tables should be numbered consecutively using two separate numerical sequences starting from Figure 1 and Table 1. References to figures and tables should always be quoted in the chosen position within the text, in the following format (see fig. 00 – see tab. 00).

Figures (including graphs) will be reproduced without any additional adjustment, with the same definition and quality as the original. All figures must be suitable for black and white print reproduction; readability in grey scale should be checked and optimized before submission.

When graphs are produced in Word, Excel, yED, in order to maintain quality they should be supplied in editable format (not as image). All elements in Word graphs should be grouped by the Drawing toolbar.

Formulas should be supplied in MathType editable format (not as images or objects).

CITATION AND REFERENCE STYLE

References and footnotes should follow the author-date system of citing references, as described in The Chicago Manual of Style, 16th ed. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2010. Please refer to instructions and examples provided below and visit www.chicagomanualofstyle.org for further information.

FOOTNOTES

Footnotes should be numbered consecutively. Numbers of footnotes should always be positioned before the punctuation mark. Please use footnotes sparingly. Do not use footnotes to provide reference citations – these should be included in the text.

IN-TEXT PARENTHETICAL REFERENCING

For In-Text citations works should be cited as (Author Last Name Year, Page Number).

The (Year, Page Number) or (Page Number) alone can be used if understood from the context.

Avoid page number and cite as (Author Last Name Year), or (Year) if understood from the context, for general paraphrases.

Multiple citations should be in chronological order, and, if in the same year, alphabetical within year (e.g. Hartem 2004; Arkam 2005; Bolding 2005; Kent and Cowler 2006).

For works with four or more authors include all authors only in the List of References entry, while in the In-Text entry cite only the last name of the first author, followed by et al. (First Author Last Name et al. Year, Page Number) or (First Author Last Name et al. Year) for general paraphrases.

Audio visual media should be cited as (Media Title Year).

LIST OF REFERENCES

In-Text References should indicate a List of References at the end of the text. Every work quoted from or mentioned in the text should be included in the List of References section. Please double-check to be certain that all dates given in parenthetical citations and in the references section are identical.

There should be uniformity and consistency in bibliographical references. References should be complete.

The titles of volumes and journals should appear in italics.

The titles of works should appear in plain text, between double quotes ("...").

For books with one author use reverse name with comma. For books with two or more authors use same order as on title page (not alphabetical); only reverse name of first author.

If persons are editors, place a comma after the final name and add abbreviations ed. for single editor or eds. for multiple editors.

Specify reprinted books.

For chapters, essays, or articles in edited books please use primary sources.

URLs and the DOI (Digital Object Identifier) number, where available, should be used to provide access information for electronic materials.

For audio visual media should be created a separate section in the List of References.

4. ONLINE SUBMISSION

In order to submit works to the Journal, and to check the status of current submissions, authors need to register – selecting “Author: Able to submit items to the journal” from the list “register as” – and login to the journal website. If already registered, authors can simply log in to enter their reserved area where they can “Start a new submission” or check “Active submissions”.

Authors should give signed consent to publication. All submissions must be accompanied by the Authors’ Statement form signed by all the authors. In case of more authors, co-authors may sign different copies of the statement and send them to the Corresponding Author. The statement/statements must be uploaded (complete and duly signed) by the Author or Corresponding Author together with the files being submitted for publication.

Figures can be reproduced only if they are free of copyright restrictions. Check that all materials and figures that require permission for publication have been identified and provide the permissions on submission of the work to be published.

FILE TYPES

All submissions must be in Word or RTF format.

A PDF file, generated from the final Word file on the same computer used to complete the work, should be supplied.

All fonts different from that used for the basic text must be listed and supplied.

All figures embedded should also be submitted in the original electronic format (300 dpi .TIF, .JPG, .EPS or .XLS).

The Authors’ Statement form/forms (complete and duly signed by all the authors) has to be submitted.

Publication permissions for any materials and figures that have copyright restrictions have to be submitted.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Files maximum size allowed: 22 MB. Files exceeding this limit must be splitted in two or more files. Use section Uploading Supplementary Files to upload files after the first one.

ANONYMOUS FILES

To preserve the integrity of the peer-review process, every effort should be made to prevent the identities of authors and reviewers from becoming known to each other.

Check that the online instructions in Ensuring a Blind Review have been followed.

5. POST-ACCEPTANCE

PDF proofs for correction are sent to the Corresponding Author. Authors are responsible for the final proof-reading; the publisher is not responsible for any error not marked by the author on the proof.

Proof corrections should be returned to the Editorial Office within 10 days of receipt, or the article will be published without author’s corrections.

Corrections on the proof can only be accepted for misprints; no changes are allowed at this stage.

All accepted works will remain permanently published on the website.

Offprints can be ordered on the website of the journal, at this link: Offprints.

6. COPYRIGHT AND TERMS OF USE

The journal does not require the transfer of copyright, which means that authors retain any and all rights on the content of their works.

The editorial format and the graphical layout of the works published in print and/or on-line in the journal remain the exclusive property of the Publisher.

Any subsequent publication should cite the complete bibliographical reference and the URL of the first publication. Any subsequent publication should not reproduce the graphical layout of the publication which appears under the LED trademark, nor use or reproduce the PDF files published on the website of the journal. The new publication should not exclude nor limit the publication, distribution or commercial use of the text, hard copy or digital, by LED in any way.

The works included in the journal are the property of their authors and are used by permission.

Any reference has to include the citation of the author and the source.

The works may not be published (in print or electronic form), edited, or otherwise altered without the permission of the author(s).

The electronic version can be read but not printed.

The website offers an ordering procedure for paperback copies at a lower price.

The Publisher is not responsible and shall not be held liable for improper or incorrect use of the works published in this website.
