Author(s): _____

Work entitled: _____

to be published in Elementa. Intersections between Philosophy, Epistemology and Empirical Perspectives

1. The undersigned authors of the above mentioned work hereby

a) they declare that

- adheres/adhere to the ethical standards published in the Journal website
- the work is submitted in final form such that excluding any correction or change in proof (see Author guidelines)
- the work is of their exclusive property and does not contain anything which infringes any third party's copyright or other rights; the content of the work is copyrighted to a third party, copy of the written permission from such other party granting LED the right to use the material in both print and online formats is submitted along with this statement (n. _____ attachments); they shall indemnify and hold harmless the Publisher against all actions, proceedings and claims and against all costs, demands and expenses (including legal expenses) arising from unauthorized reproductions.

b) they authorize LED to publish the work (if accepted)

- in print form under the "LED Edizioni Universitarie di Lettere Economia Diritto" trademark;
- on-line in the LED electronic archive at <http://www.ledonline.it>, in PDF format;
- after revision and correction of the drafts to be performed exclusively by the editors of the volume / Series / Journal.

c) they agree and accept the following paragraphs 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

2. Photographs, drawings, graphs and graphics are all identified as "Figures".

- Figures can be reproduced only if they are free of copyright restrictions, i.e. if they are in the public domain or accompanied by permission from the rights holder. Images downloaded from the Internet always require authorization unless expressly declared otherwise in the source.
- Authors must identify all materials and figures which require authorization for publication and provide the permission on submission of the work to be published. No work with copyright permissions pending will be accepted. The sources of figures and tables reproduced must be cited.

3. The publication, both in print and on-line, does not imply any transfer of copyright by the Authors to the Publisher: the Authors simply authorize the publication under a Creative Commons "Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International \(CC BY-NC-ND\)" license. The copyright of the content is maintained wholly by the respective Authors, while the editorial format and the graphical layout of the works published in print and/or on-line by LED remain the exclusive property of LED.

It is consequently forbidden, also in order not to damage the journal statistics, to upload the whole published files to such academic social network sites as Academia, Research Gate and the like, where the DOI code and/or the link to the issue homepage has to be inserted instead. It is allowed to upload the whole published files only to institutional officially recognised repositories, established and operated by universities and governments.

4. The author/authors may publish their works at any time and in any form with another publisher, with the following limitations:

- the new publication must not reproduce the graphical layout of the publication which appears under the LED trademark, nor use or reproduce the PDF files published on the <http://www.ledonline.it/> website, except for the cases mentioned above;
- in the new publication, the preliminary page must cite the references of the previous publication under the LED trademark, including the URL of the on-line publication;
- the new publication must not exclude nor limit the publication, distribution or commercial use of the work, hard copy or digital, by LED in any way.

5. LED shall have the right to publish, reproduce, distribute, display and store the works worldwide, even in the event that these works are republished under another heading and/or with another publisher. To this end, LED has the right to make use of all forms of distribution, formats, media (whether known now or created in the future), and channels in current or future use by LED, including databases which are external to the www.ledonline.it web site.

6. LED disclaims any liability for the possible improper use of the published works and materials by users of the web site or by third parties.

7. No fee or royalties are due to authors.

8. Author guidelines have to be read and followed carefully prior to submitting works. References and footnotes should follow instructions and examples provided there.

9. Peer Review policy and procedure – Elementa. Intersections between Philosophy, Epistemology and Empirical Perspectives is a peer-reviewed journal:

- In submitting works, authors agree that their works may be published (if accepted). Submission of a work does not guarantee acceptance.
- All submitted works judged suitable for review undergo anonymous double-blind review process. Works will be evaluated by at least two referees and, following their indications, will be either accepted, returned to the authors for corrections, or rejected. The final decision is the responsibility of the Editor in Chief, and will be taken within six months of receipt.

10. In case of multiple authors, the Corresponding Author will handle all correspondence with the Volume/Series/Journal editors.
